ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER NO. 14-10
ORDER REGARDING WEAPONS IN COURTROOMS

The District Judges of the Seventh Judicial District routinely preside over civil cases that involve conflict and high levels of emotion and discord and criminal offenses that involve violence against persons. The Douglas County Sheriff provides security for the Courts and the Board of County Commissioners has provided the funds necessary to make the Judicial-Law Enforcement Center a secure building. In order to maintain an environment that is safe for all parties who appear in court, for the court security officers, and for the court personnel, the Court finds that all persons other than law enforcement officers and authorized court employees entering the Judicial-Law Enforcement Building shall be prohibited from having in their possession objects that could be used as weapons, including but not limited to firearms and sharp-edged weapons.

No person, other than Douglas County Sheriff's deputies or other law enforcement officers designated by the sheriff to assist with court security duties, shall possess a firearm, a sharp-edged weapon or any other object that could be used as a weapon and poses a physical threat to court patrons and personnel, in any courtroom in the Seventh Judicial District. Law enforcement officers may possess such weapons within the areas adjacent to courtrooms, but may not possess such weapons within courtrooms unless the judge presiding in that courtroom authorizes such possession. Court personnel may possess personal-use knives in areas adjacent to the courtrooms, but may not possess such knives within any courtrooms without the authorization of the judge presiding over that courtroom. Court security personnel of the Douglas County Sheriff's Office are authorized to enforce the provisions of this order.

SEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT
ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER 14-13

The Clerk of the District Court referred the Marriage License Application of Thomas Tuozzo and Rodd Hedlund to the Chief Judge for review. The applicants appear to be of the same sex. Article 15, §16 of the Kansas Constitution provides that: “Marriage shall be constituted by one man and one woman only. All other marriages are declared to be contrary to the public policy of this state and are void.” No Kansas or Federal Appellate Court has reviewed this provision of the Constitution and this court is bound by the Kansas Constitution. If the court were to issue a license to the applicants and the appellate courts later hold that Article 15, §16 does not violate the United States Constitution, the parties’ marriage will be void.

The court performs an administrative function when it issues a marriage license. In exercising its administrative functions the court has a different role than it does when it rules on a petition that has been filed in this court as a contested matter. The Court’s role in administrative matters is to apply and follow the existing laws of the State of Kansas. Recently, the United States Supreme Court declined to review several cases in which the Circuit Courts held that similar provisions contained in the constitutions of other states violate the United States Constitution. Included in these cases were two cases from the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals. While Kansas is within the jurisdiction of the Tenth Circuit, none of these cases involved Article 15, §16 of the Kansas Constitution. This court may not make a determination as to the validity of this constitutional provision without a judicable case before it concerning the court’s issuance of or failure to issue a marriage license.

The Clerk of the District Court shall not issue a marriage license to these applicants or to any other applicants of the same sex. When the Clerk rejects the application, the clerk shall give the applicants a copy of this order
